Versatile Security Increases Pricing Transparency

Versatile Security presents a public price calculator showing the recommended retail price for the market leading smart card management system vSEC:CMS. This is a starting point for comparing prices for smart card administration!

Stockholm, Sweden, September 27th, 2012 – Versatile Security Sweden AB announces the decision to make the MSRP pricing of its flagship products, vSEC:CMS T-Series and vSEC:CMS K-Series, completely transparent and readily available through the company website <http://versatilesecurity.com>.

“Some key attributes of the product are the extremely quick and easy integration, the lack of need to invest in expensive and dedicated hardware and the competitive license price. Since the pricing of the product is an important differentiating factor, compared to other solutions, the company has decided to make this information easily obtainable by anyone interested in the product. Historically, the significant cost of implementing the high level of security that smart card based logon offers has been a blocking point for several organizations around the globe. Versatile Security now shows that pricing is no longer an issue”, said Joakim Thorén, CEO, Versatile Security.
